

Spelling list: Week 5

possibility	A verb which expresses necessity or possibility e.g. might, could, should.
linear	A sequence is linear if the difference between the terms is constant.
ridiculous	The amount of homework we had to do was ridiculous!
artificial	The new football ground used artificial grass.
calculator	Did you use a calculator for that equation?
competitive	The parent race on sports day is very competitive .
curiosity	Curiosity killed the cat.
peony
simultaneously	Ellie could simultaneously pat her head with one hand and rub her tummy with the other.
encyclopedia
optimistic	If you are optimistic , it means that you always expect good things to happen.
individual	Each individual should bring their own food and drink.
tarantula	Michael had a pet tarantula named Harry.
sophisticated	The wedding venue was very sophisticated .
correspondent	A correspondent is journalist employed to provide news stories for newspapers or broadcast media.
organization	The lady worked for a charitable organization .
satisfactory	My maths grades were satisfactory .
irritable	I get irritable if I haven't had enough sleep.

cauliflower A cauliflower is a vegetable with a compact head of white undeveloped flowers.

enthusiastic Our teacher loves it when we are enthusiastic about our work!