

Spelling list: Tales of the Unexpected

suspense	The ending left us in suspense .
climax	The point in a play, novel, short-story or narrative poem at which the conflict reaches its greatest intensity and then is resolved.
development	Development of new business is vital to an economy.
tension	High tension .
morality	In the feudal England, morality was based on fealty to a king.
reliability	To degrade or demolish someone's or something's truthfulness and reliability .
irony	When someone means something other than what they say; the most obvious form is sarcasm, but irony is usually more subtle.
foreboding	As I walked towards the gloomy castle, a sense of foreboding filled me.
naivety	The boy's naivety made him vulnerable.
characterise	How would you characterise the personality of Romeo?
resolution	The more pixels, the better the resolution .
exposition	In the exposition the setting of the story is normally established.
chilling	There was a chilling scream and then silence returned to the graveyard.
isolation	As the storm raged, our sense of isolation increased.
subversion	Subversion means sneakily manipulating someone (or something) for your own benefit.