

Spelling list: Characters in Life of Pi

Life of Pi by Yann Martel is a captivating tale of survival and spirituality. Piscine Molitor Patel, known as Pi, finds himself stranded on a lifeboat with a Bengal tiger named Richard Parker after a shipwreck. Pi's extraordinary journey tests his faith, resilience, and the power of storytelling.

Piscine	Piscine Molitor Patel, known as Pi, embarks on a remarkable journey of survival and self-discovery.
Molitor	Piscine Molitor Patel, known as Pi, embarks on a remarkable journey of survival and self-discovery.
Patel	Piscine Molitor Patel , known as Pi, embarks on a remarkable journey of survival and self-discovery.
Pi	Piscine Molitor Patel, known as Pi , embarks on a remarkable journey of survival and self-discovery.
Richard	Richard Parker, the Bengal tiger, becomes an unlikely companion and a constant source of danger and fascination for Pi.
Parker	Richard Parker , the Bengal tiger, becomes an unlikely companion and a constant source of danger and fascination for Pi.
Santosh	Santosh Patel, Pi's father, imparts valuable life lessons and prepares Pi for the challenges ahead.
Gita	Gita Patel, Pi's mother, provides a nurturing presence and supports Pi's exploration of faith.
Ravi	Ravi Patel, Pi's older brother, shares an adventurous spirit and sibling rivalry with Pi.
Author	The author , implied to be Yann Martel himself, weaves the narrative of Pi's journey, blurring the lines between fact and fiction.
Adirubasamy	Francis Adirubasamy tells the author the incredible tale of Pi's survival at sea.
	Mr. Okamoto , one of the officials investigating Pi's story, questions the

Okamoto	truthfulness of his incredible tale.
Chiba	Mr. Chiba , another investigator, seeks to uncover the truth behind Pi's extraordinary claims.
Kumar	Satish Kumar , Pi's biology teacher, ignites Pi's fascination with the animal kingdom and the wonders of nature.
Orange	Orange Juice, the orangutan, becomes Pi's unexpected companion on the lifeboat.
Juice	Orange Juice , the orangutan, becomes Pi's unexpected companion on the lifeboat.
Zebra	The zebra , a fellow survivor on the lifeboat, endures hardships and serves as a reminder of the brutality of nature.
Hyena	The hyena , a ruthless predator, poses a constant threat to Pi and his companions on the lifeboat.