

Spelling list: Characters in White Teeth

White Teeth by Zadie Smith is a sprawling and multigenerational novel that explores the lives of characters from diverse cultural backgrounds in London. It delves into themes of identity, heritage, and the complexities of modern society, offering a thought-provoking and humorous commentary on multiculturalism and the search for belonging.

Archie	Archie Jones, a disillusioned man in his forties, embarks on a quest for meaning and redemption in the vibrant tapestry of multicultural London.
Jones	Archie Jones , a disillusioned man in his forties, embarks on a quest for meaning and redemption in the vibrant tapestry of multicultural London.
Samad	Samad Iqbal, a devout and conflicted Bangladeshi immigrant, grapples with his cultural heritage and the challenges of assimilation in a rapidly changing London.
Iqbal	Samad Iqbal , a devout and conflicted Bangladeshi immigrant, grapples with his cultural heritage and the challenges of assimilation in a rapidly changing London.
Clara	Clara Bowden's strength and determination in navigating her mixed-race identity defy the limitations imposed by a society marked by prejudice and stereotypes.
Bowden	Clara Bowden's strength and determination in navigating her mixed-race identity defy the limitations imposed by a society marked by prejudice and stereotypes.
Irie	Irie Jones embarks on a journey of self-discovery, self-acceptance, and understanding of her cultural heritage.
Jones	Irie Jones embarks on a journey of self-discovery, self-acceptance, and understanding of her cultural heritage.
Millat	Millat Iqbal's defiance against societal norms and his search for personal identity mirror the struggles faced by many young people caught between tradition and modernity.

Magid	Magid Iqbal's contrasting experiences in Bangladesh and London shed light on the clash of cultures and the complexities of identity formation.
Alsana	Alsana Iqbal, Samad's wife, embodies strength and resilience as she straddles tradition and modernity and wrestles with the challenges of raising a family.
Joshua	Joshua Chalfen's friendship with Irie exposes the intersections of different cultural backgrounds and the shared struggles of belonging.
Chalfen	Joshua Chalfen's friendship with Irie exposes the intersections of different cultural backgrounds and the shared struggles of belonging.
Marcus	Marcus Chalfen's research on genetics prompts profound questions about identity and the role of science in defining who we are.
Hortense	Hortense Bowden, a proud and ambitious Jamaican woman, faces racial discrimination as she strives to build a better life for herself in London,.