

Spelling list: Characters in The Woman in Black

The Woman in Black by Susan Hill is a chilling ghost story that follows Arthur Kipps, a solicitor sent to settle the affairs of a deceased client. As he delves deeper into the secrets of the eerie Eel Marsh House, he encounters the vengeful spirit of the Woman in Black and unravels a haunting mystery with dire consequences.

Arthur Arthur Kipps, a young solicitor, embarks on a journey to settle the affairs of the late Mrs. Drablow, unaware of the terrifying encounters he faces at Eel Marsh House.

Kipps Arthur Kipps , a young solicitor, embarks on a journey to settle the affairs of the late Mrs. Drablow, unaware of the terrifying encounters he faces at Eel Marsh House.

Samuel Samuel Daily, a kind-hearted and cautious local man from the village of Crythin Gifford, provides Arthur with helpful guidance and warns him about the dangers associated with Eel Marsh House.

Daily Samuel Daily , a kind-hearted and cautious local man from the village of Crythin Gifford, provides Arthur with helpful guidance and warns him about the dangers associated with Eel Marsh House.

Jennet Jennet Humfrye, the true identity of the Woman in Black, has a tragic past, and her relentless spirit seeks revenge for the loss she endured.

Humfrye Jennet Humfrye , the true identity of the Woman in Black, has a tragic past, and her relentless spirit seeks revenge for the loss she endured.

Jerome Jerome read the newspaper every morning.

Keckwick Mr. Keckwick , a diligent and experienced local, assists Arthur by providing transportation to Eel Marsh House, driving his pony and trap through the fog-laden marshes.

Bentley Mr. Bentley , Arthur's employer at the solicitor's office, assigns him the task of settling Mrs. Drablow's estate not knowing about the horrors that await him on the desolate marshland.

Drablow

He late Mrs. Drablow , the former owner of Eel Marsh House, leaves behind a legacy of darkness and tragedy that entangles Arthur in a web of supernatural terror.