

Spelling list: Technology, Streaming & Entertainment

Streaming has revolutionised how we watch film, listen to music, and enjoy entertainment. With just an internet connection, students can stream content anytime, anywhere. It's important to understand terms like playlist, subscribe, and binge-watch when using streaming services. Whether it's listening to a podcast, watching a video, or discovering new music, knowing how to navigate the world of streaming in a safe way is essential. This word list introduces important terms related to streaming and entertainment and provides clear definitions to help students understand how to use them effectively.

subscribe	To subscribe means to sign up for a service to receive regular content.
stream	To stream means to watch or listen to content without downloading it.
podcast	A podcast is an audio show that you can listen to on the internet.
playlist	A playlist is a collection of songs or videos grouped together to play in order.
binge	To binge a show is to watch or listen to many episodes in one go.
vlog	A vlog is a video blog where someone shares their experiences, thoughts, or stories.
subscription	A subscription is a paid service that gives you access to content for a certain period of time.
episode	An episode is one part of a series, often seen in TV shows or podcasts.
season	A season is a group of episodes in a series, usually released over a period of time.
viewer	A viewer is someone who watches a show, movie, or video.
streaming	A streaming platform is a website or app that allows you to stream movies, music, and other content.
platform	A streaming platform is a website or app that allows you to stream movies, music, and other content.
livestream	A livestream is a real-time broadcast of an event, show, or performance.

channel	A channel is a service or platform that offers content, such as a TV channel or a YouTube channel .
viral	When something goes viral , it becomes very popular online very quickly.
filter	A filter is a tool that changes how an image or video looks.
ad	An ad (short for advertisement) is a commercial message promoting a product, service, or brand, usually shown before or during streaming content.