

Spelling list: Characters in Much Ado About Nothing

Much Ado About Nothing by William Shakespeare revolves around the merry war of words between the sharp-tongued and independent Benedick and Beatrice. Amidst their banter, love blossoms between the noble Claudio and Hero, leading to misunderstandings and comedic twists. With its themes of love, deception, and the power of language, Shakespeare crafts a joyful and entertaining tale of romance and reconciliation.

Ursula	Ursula is one of Hero's waiting women.
Balthasar	Balthasar is a musician and a waiting man in Leonato's household.
Antonio	Antonio is Leonato's elderly brother and Hero's uncle.
Verges	Verges is the deputy to Dogberry.
Dogberry	Dogberry is the chief policeman of Messina.
Conrad	Conrad is one of Don John's more intimate associates.
Borachio	Borachio is an associate of Don John and lover of Margaret.
Margaret	Margaret is Hero's serving woman.
Don	Don John is the illegitimate brother of Don Pedro.
Leonato	Leonato is the father of Hero and the uncle of Beatrice.
Pedro	Don Pedro is an important nobleman from Aragon.
Hero	Hero is the beautiful young daughter of Leonato and the cousin of Beatrice.
Claudio	Claudio is a young soldier who won great acclaim fighting during the recent wars.
Beatrice	Beatrice is Leonato's niece and Hero's cousin.
Benedick	Benedick is a gentleman of Padua serving in Don Pedro's army.